

My professional and educational background focuses on management, public service, and technology. I have a Bachelor of Science in Computer Science from the University of New Orleans and a non-profit certification from UGA's Terry Collins Foundation.

Since 2000, I have served as Chief Operational Officer (COO), of a successful 501(c3) nonprofit organization, Helping Hands Outreach Clinic. While in this role, I held management and budget experience with the oversight of a large operating budget.

For the last 3 years I have had the honor of serving as the Rockdale County Clerk of Superior and State Courts. I have completed all the required training courses that keep me in compliance with my clerk duties. I have received certifications from the Carl Vinson Institute of Government from the University of Georgia in the following courses: Fines, Fees, and Forfeitures, Public Sector Leadership, Ethical Use of Power, Managing Human Resources, Real and Personal Property, Jury Management, and County Government and the Superior Court Clerk, Civil and Criminal Case Management, Superior Court Clerks: Disaster Recovery and Records Management.

I have experience in managing over 134 healthcare volunteers and office staff. I'm currently responsible for 32 certified deputy clerks.

To be successful in all the positions mentioned above, you must have integrity and be fiscally responsible when overseeing budgets. I have a proven track record that shows that I am more than capable of continuing my job as the elected Rockdale County Clerk of Superior and State Court.

The biggest challenge facing our citizens is Real estate and jury duty fraud. Criminals are committing property fraud by filing false paperwork on people's property. We are also seeing a rise in jury duty fraud, where people are being contacted about paying a fine for missing jury duty.

The response of the Clerk's office to combat the property fraud, resulting in implementing new software on our website called PropertyCheck. When a person signs up for Property

My vision for the future of the clerk's office is assuring we are strategically positioned in the new justice complex to effectively serve the citizens and courts of Rockdale. making sure we have the best technology software.

Thank you,

Janice Morris, Clerk of Superior and State Courts
